

GENERAL LEAVES
HUERTA FORCESOfficer of High Rank Asks American Protection.

OTHERS LIABLE TO FOLLOW

Jose Mancilla, One of the Most Prominent Commanders in the Mexican Federal Army, Crosses the Line
From Ojinaga and Is Being Held by United States Troops Pending Orders From General Bliss.

Presidio, Tex., Jan. 8.—General Jose Mancilla, one of the most prominent commanders of the Mexican federal army, deserted. He crossed to the American side from Ojinaga, Mex., and
was held by the United States border
patrol.

Accompanied by his son, a captain,
General Mancilla gave a fictitious name to the immigration officials, but
on being taken before Major McNamee, commanding the United States
troops, he admitted his identity and asked for asylum in this country. He had discarded his sword on the Mexican side. Pending orders from Brigadier General Bliss at San Antonio he was placed under custody.

Although General Mancilla is the first officer of rank of the Huerta
troops to desert his post for foreign territory 300 or 400 of the regular troops previously had deserted to this side.

General Mancilla, commanding a division of the regular troops, as distinguished from the volunteers, was taken as a fighting general and a strong supporter of Huerta's military regime. His leaving the army was said
by the rebels to be the precursor of
a gradual crossing to this side of
more of the federal troops.

WAITING POLICY WILL WIN

How John Lind Is Said to View Mexican Situation.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Word has reached Washington that when President Wilson and John Lind held their conference on board the cruiser Chester, Mr. Lind expressed the belief that the waiting policy of the United States government toward Mexico is certain to be rewarded with success.
The president is reported to be well
satisfied with the report of his personal representative.

Much interest will attach to Mr.
Lind's proceedings now that he is again on Mexican soil.

GOES TO CONFER WITH LIND

American Charge Leaves Mexico City
for Vera Cruz.

Mexico City, Jan. 8.—The American
charge d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, left for Vera Cruz in response to a request from John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative,
to call on him there.

Mr. Lind's telegram merely stated that he desired Mr. O'Shaughnessy
to come at his convenience, so that he might present to the charge personally the president's compliments.

WAR WOULD BE SLAUGHTER

General Wood Says Army Is Lacking
in Equipment.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Explaining his judgment is not influenced by the Mexican situation Major General
Wood, chief of staff of the army, has advised committees of congress that it should appropriate $3,000,000 for field guns and ammunition for the regular army and $3,000,000 for the militia.

"If you were to send our troops into war as they are now, without guns or ammunition, it would be slaughter,"
the general told the house military committee.

"If called into the field suddenly we should have to go with a very small allowance of ammunition, even for the guns in the hands of the troops, and
we should have neither guns nor ammunition enough for our field artillery
forces."

BEGINS MESSAGE ON TRUSTS

President Gives No Inkling as to Nature of Its Contents.

Pass Christian, Miss., Jan. 8.— President Wilson began work on the message dealing with anti-trust legislation, which he will read to congress shortly after his return to Washington.

No inkling of its nature will be divulged until it is submitted to the cabinet members and Democratic congressional leaders.

FORAKER WOULD COME BACK

Said to Be After Burton's Seat in the Senate.

Cincinnati, Jan. 8.—That former Senator Joseph B. Foraker will attempt to come back and wrest the senatorial toga from Theodore E.
Burton was the announcement of Foraker's friends. In a statement Foraker practically admitted it.

"If I should become satisfied that the Republicans of Ohio desire that I become a candidate," said Foraker,
"I would gratify me to receive their
support at the primaries and election."

CLARK SAILS FOR ITALY

Endeavorer Head Begins Seventeenth
Foreign Journey.

Boston, Jan. 8.—Rev. Francis E.
Clark, president of the World's Christian Endeavor union, has sailed for Italy on his seventeenth foreign journey in the interests of the movement
which he founded. These journeys
have involved more than 250,000 miles
of travel. Five of the journeys have been trips around the world.

PIN SUFFRAGE BADGE
ON GOVERNOR GLYNNEleven Footsore Women Call on
New York Executive.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 8.—The hike of the New York suffragettes ended here
and some of the eleven footsore and
weary marchers rested at local hotels, others returning home by train.
They obtained their audiences with Governor Glynn and their respective assemblymen in the interest of their
"cause" and all of them were happy,
even though their feet did hurt.

Three of the hikers, "General" Rosalie Jones, "Colonel" Ida Craft and "Corporal" Martha Klatchen, walked
the entire 166 miles by road in the six days and a half.

Governor Glynn received the suffragettes. Miss Jones carried a lighted lantern into the executive chamber.

"What's the idea," queried the governor. "Are you patterning after Diogenes?"

"I'm looking for an honest states-
man," replied the general laughing.

"You will have a hard time to pick
out the right one," advised the governor.

The governor appeared loath to accept a "votes for women" button that General Jones pressed upon him.

"Let Frank do it," he said, referring to his secretary, Frank Tierney.

Finally, however, the solid array of women forced both the governor and Tierney to accept badges.

The governor did not commit himself on the suffrage question. He told the women he "felt honored by their visit."

CRIME OF JEALOUS LOVER

Mortally Wounds Woman and Then Ends His Life.

Wautoma, Wis., Jan. 8.—In a fit of jealous rage Fred Hannan, superintendent of the Shaw stone quarry at Lohrville, near here, shot and mortally wounded Mrs. Charles Freeberg following her refusal to elope with him
and then ended his life when pursued by a posse of citizens, according
to officers.

Mrs. Freeberg had separated from her husband and Hannan had prevailed upon her to consider a plan to live with him, it is said.

When Mrs. Freeberg refused to yield to his plea and told him she had reunited with her husband Hannan
is alleged to have drawn a revolver
and fired two shots at her, one of the bullets striking directly over the heart.

When a posse gathered Hannan,
seeing that he had no chance of escape, shot himself through the head.

Father Would Die for Son.

Bakersfield, Cal., Jan. 8.—Unless Governor Johnson pardons Ralph Far-
ris, train bandit, who killed Passenger Agent Montague during a hold-
up, his father, James Farris, will offer
to take his son's place on the gallows.

$2,000 FOR BROKEN PROMISE

Omaha Jury Awards Woman One-
fifth of Amount She Asked.

Omaha, Jan. 8.—H. C. Jensen of Litchfield, Minn., must pay Miss Jennie Pederson of Omaha $2,000 for refusing to marry her, a jury in district court decided. Miss Pederson
asked for $10,000.

She alleged Jensen had employed
her as housekeeper and then made a proposition of marriage which, he later repudiated.

SHORT SELLING ATTACKED.

Public Closely Watches Doings of Congress and Is Quick to Resent Anything That Displeases—Mrs. March Littleton Again Urges Purchase of Jefferson Homestead.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 8.—[Special].—Additional financial legislation is expected during the present congress, or why
the promise that the matter of guaranteeing deposits of national banks or
the banks under the new currency bill would have consideration? That was the promise of Chairman Owen of the senate committee. I do not know upon what bill this guaranty provision may be placed, but I assume that it will find a place in the "farm credits" bill,
which has also been assured consideration. The farm credits measure was given considerable attention in the annual message of President Wilson, and
he expressed so much interest in it
that it cannot be neglected. Just what form it will take is not now apparent, nor is it possible to say just
how it will fit in with the new currency law. However, that is another problem for the present congress.

"Short Sales" Also.

It is quite well understood that there will be an effort to tack on to any
farm credits bill a provision stopping
"short sales" of farm products. And that again will stir up quite an interesting contest. There are representatives of farming states who say their people do not want to interfere with speculation in farm products because
they believe that prices are kept higher by reason of the speculation. To cut off "short sales" will tend to stop
the speculative higher bidding, and in the end they fear a complete lower trend of prices in farm products. Perhaps a part of the high cost of living borne by the consumer is due to this speculating that producers think keeps
up prices.

Uncle Joe's Way.

When the Republicans complained
so bitterly about the manner in which they were treated by being excluded
from the conference on the currency
bill Senator Williams told the senate
some of his experiences when minority leader of the house, which he described as a "place with much name
and little power, as many have learned before me and since. Joe Cannon
was then speaker," continued Williams, "and Joe would say in the language of Tom Reed, 'Sharp, the Republican party, responsible for legislation,
is about to perpetrate another outrage.
Put your hand on the Democrats and
bring them in, so you may know what it is beforehand.' Sometimes they would give us twenty minutes to talk.
Once they did not give us any time
at all."

What Williams Learned.

As minority leader of the house Williams did more protesting than any other one man against the "gag rules,"
the "brute force," the "unseemly
baste," the "czar-like methods," of the Republicans, but he seemed to have learned something about the way the
people looked at it, for he said:

"By the way, I found out, when I
was minority leader that the country
did not care much about how the majority reached a vote; the people were interested in knowing what the majority did in the matter of legislation."

Past Examples.

Going back a number of years, it
may be positively stated that no one
cared a rap about the Reed rules,
Crisp rules, Henderson rules, Cannon
rules or any other man's rules or the methods of the majority. It was what the majority enacted that affected the people. The people did not like the McKinley tariff, and they turned the Republicans out. They did not like the Wilson tariff, and they turned the Democrats out. They did not like the Payne-Aldrich tariff, and they turned the Republicans out. If they do not like the Underwood tariff and the new currency law they will turn the Democrats out again. It is what they do, not how they do it, that affects the
country.

Not Believed Here.

The report that a cabaret dancer,
who was introduced as an entertainer
at a dinner in Ohio, toyed with Senator Pomerene's hair is not generally believed by the crowd that looks down
from the galleries of the senate. The Ohio senator has a short crop of hair,
like quite a number of other people
about the capitol.

No Rest For Levy.

Not even during the merry Yuletide
season was Jefferson Levy, the owner
of Monticello, allowed to rest and recuperate. Nemesis, in the person of Mrs. Martin Littleton, was on his trail
and working to have congress purchase
the old Jefferson home whether or no.
With a petition of about 800,000 signatures Mrs. Littleton is ready to attack
congress again and bring about results.
Of course congressmen know that it is difficult to get petitions signed, but they also know that 800,000 people do not sign their names without having
some feeling in the matter.

There is not the least doubt that
the Jefferson name carries a great deal
of weight in a Democratic congress.

distinction of being the best educated
country in the world.

FRANKLIN K. LANE.

Will Not Be a Candidate
for Office in California.

LANE IS NOT A CANDIDATE

Secretary Wants No Official Honors
From California.

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 8.—A dispatch from Washington quotes Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior,
as refusing to be a candidate for senator or governor of California. Secretary Lane said his refusal was without qualification. He had been mentioned in connection with the Democratic state ticket this year.

PARKER ARGUES CASE
OF LABOR LEADERSSays Utterances Were Meant
to Influence Congress.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Alton B. Parker began the defense before the supreme court of Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison against charges of contempt of court, of which the labor leaders were convicted in
the courts of the District of Columbia.
Gompers, the only one of the defendants present, sat with his wife
throughout the argument.

Mr. Parker presented the case from an angle entirely different from that
submitted when the original appeal
was argued in 1911. He said that the utterances which have been made the basis for the contempt proceedings were
not designed to violate the District supreme court's boycott injunction issued in favor of the Buck's
Stove and Range company.

He said they were a part of the campaign to induce congress to remedy threatened danger resulting from
the supreme court's decision in the Danbury hatters' case, in which it was held that the Sherman anti-trust
law applied to labor organizations.

Labor appreciated then, he added,
what the public has learned only lately, that the National Association of Manufacturers was engaged in a great fight at that time to wipe labor organizations out of existence.

The District supreme court held the
labor men guilty of contempt for alleged violation of its injunction not
to boycott the Buck's Stove and Range company of St. Louis. Gompers was sentenced to jail for one year, Mitchell
for nine months and Morrison for six months. The United States supreme court set the sentences aside in 1911
because the court had treated the contempt as part of the injunction proceedings.

IOWA ELECTION DATE IS SET

Successor to Late Congressman Pepper Will Be Chosen Feb. 10.

Muscatine, Ia., Jan. 8.—Interest in the Second district congressional campaign was enlivened with the announcement from Governor Clarke
that the special election to name a successor to the late I. S. Pepper will be held on Feb. 10.

BURKE EXPRESSES SURPRISE

Expects to Beat Crawford for the Senatorial Nomination.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Representative Charles H. Burke of South Dakota expressed amazement over the action of the convention at Pierre in nominating him to enter the March
primaries as a candidate for the United States senate.

Mr. Burke announced some months
ago that at the expiration of his present term in the house he would retire
from public life. He refused at the time to become a candidate for the senate in opposition to Coe I. Crawford.

However, Mr. Burke will go into the campaign in earnest and he said that he expected to win easily.

"Until I am officially advised of my nomination I do not care to make a formal statement," said Mr. Burke. "I have no doubt of winning in the March primaries."

Mr. Burke's nomination excited a great deal of surprise in political circles in Washington.

YOUTH SHOTS HIS FATHER

Kills Parent to Save His Own Life
and Others.

Great Falls, Mont., Jan. 8.—To save
the life of Ladimer Chadek, his own
and his mother's, Adolph Schuder,
fifteen years of age, shot and killed
his father. Chadek and the elder Adolph Schuder became involved in a quarrel. Chadek fled toward his home when Schuder sought a gun.
Schuder pursued his foe in a buggy,
firing at him until he stopped and begged for his life.

Schuder then tied Chadek hand and
foot and told his wife and son, who
had followed him, that he was going
to drag him to death behind the bus-
sy. The boy seized the shotgun and killed his father.

At an inquest the lad testified his father had declared that as soon as he finished with Chadek he would kill Mrs. Schuder and Adolph for interfering. Young Schuder said he shot
in self-defense, as well as to save the bound captive.

THAW WINS MANY POINTS

Sheriff Favors Admitting Noted
Prisoner to Bail.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 8.—Harry K.
Thaw won many points over the New York authorities who are trying to return him to Matteawan at the session of the public hearing before the federal commission appointed to investigate Thaw's mental condition and its relation to his liberation under bonds.

Holman A. Drew, sheriff of Coos county, and Clark B. Stevens of the local police, who have had Thaw in charge since September, favored his admission to bail.

Thaw and his mother were present
with counsel.

Pretty Warm.

Once a visitor was narrating a case
he had just heard in court. "This was
his way of expressing his meaning:
"At this point," said the narrator,
"she broke down and wept scalding
tears."

"My goodness," exclaimed a listener,
"she must have been boiling over with rage!"—London Telegraph.

MINERS TELL OF CONDITIONS

Michigan Copper Strikers Relate Circumstances Under Which They Were Employed and the Remuneration Therefor—Governor Says Men
Have Right to Organize and That Corporations Must So Realize.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 8.—The strike
of copper miners, which was called here on July 23, was opposed by officials of the Western Federation of Miners, Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris was told by representatives of the union.

The governor was asked to listen to
miners and trammers who had worked underground for years. Half a score of these men related the conditions under which they labored and
the pay they had received for their efforts. The eviction cases were called to his attention and he was informed of the experiences of some of the men with special police and other officers.

It was revealed at the hearing that
the federation had proposed that the hours of labor and rates of pay posted
by the mining companies on Dec. 1
would be allowed to stand; that the
one-man drill grievance was not mentioned and that the question of recognition was to be obtained by a non-discrimination clause.

The governor went into the situation of the union before the strike was called and asked O. N. Hilton, general
counsel for the Western Federation,
why the national officers opposed the strike.

"Because they felt that a strike
would entail great expense and considerable suffering and because it was felt that conditions over the country
were such that the time was inopport-
une for any such industrial disturbance," was the reply. After the strike was voted he said national officers had no power to stop it.

Miners Give Their Version.

Throughout the hearing the part
that local men had taken in the affair
was kept well to the front. The men
delivered brief autobiographies, practically all the witnesses having started to labor when less than fifteen years old, and having been under ground for from fifteen to twenty-five years.

They had been drill boys, trammers,
miners and timber men and their pay
had ranged from $18 to $40 a month
for boys and from $52 to $90 a month
as miners. The men emphasized that the rich months were few and contract work had brought them generally lower returns than the day rates.

The governor told the union men
that he expected to talk with the mine managers and asked them to give him what they considered the crux of the situation. A typical reply came from James R. Roach, personal representative of Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor.

"The companies are planning a continuation of their fight against trade
unionism in concert," he said. "Yet
they ask the men to deal singly with a combination of corporations. It strikes me that it is time for the companies to wake up."

"No man is more anxious for a settlement than I am," the governor said.
"I believe that corporations generally
must come to the point where they will recognize organizations of their employees. There is no question of the right of the men to join such organizations and the only question confronting me now is whether I, as gov-

will be of the right sort and per-

CANNON SHOTS HIMSELF

Nephew of Former Speaker Says Deed
Was Accident.

Danville, Ill., Jan. 8.—Orville W.
Cannon, nephew of Joseph G. Cannon,
former speaker of the house, shot
himself at his home. The bullet plowed a path through his scalp, inflicting a superficial wound.

Later Mr. Cannon declared the wound was inflicted accidentally while he was fooling with a couple of loaded revolvers. A second weapon, fully loaded, was found beside him on the bed by his wife, who was summoned
by the noise.

THE WEATHER

Temperature record taken at Gull lake dam, by caretaker, Arthur L. Nampel.
January 7, Maximum 41, minimum 22.

The commissioners of Duluth have increased salaries to city employees averaging $5 per month, affecting over 100 persons employed in all departments.

The manufacturers of the Ford car have a profit of $10,000,000 to their credit which they are about to distribute among their employees according to salary, length of service and efficiency.

They have commenced seeing things again at Little Falls, a reader of the Transcript reporting that he spied a crow in the lumber yard in that city last Tuesday. It is quite possible that this bird has not returned but has been here all during the so-called winter months having decided that the climate of Northern Minnesota was mild enough for continuous habitation.

James A. Peterson, of Minneapolis, announces that he is a candidate for the republican nomination of governor of Minnesota, and says that he will speak in every locality in the state. Apparently there will be a sufficient number of candidates for this place before the time to file is closed and the more to enter the field the better are Gov. Eberhart's chances for another term. Iverson, Peterson, Lee and probably two more will be in the fight to defeat the "machine" and by the mere fact of a division of their forces will defeat their own purpose.

The democrats will make an attempt to hold the control of congress and will undoubtedly put candidates in the field in every district of Minnesota at the coming election. The prediction is made by the St. Cloud Journal-Press that it is probable one of the Wadena men mentioned for the republican nomination against Congressman Lindbergh will file, and in that event the Little Falls statesman will probably run as an independent, as he has no further claim on the republican party, which would bring out a democratic candidate, and with three candidates in the field it would take a brave man to predict which would win.

A smooth forgery was perpetrated in Otter Tail county when a man claiming to be "Mr. Strand" appeared at a loan office in Fergus Falls and wanted to raise $1,356 on his farm. The title to the farm was found to be all right and terms were agreed upon and the man received his money in return for the mortgage. This was a year ago, and the interest not being paid when due the "Mr. Strand" who owned the farm was notified of his indebtedness, and thinking some mistake had been made he investigated and found that a forgery had been committed. He was not in the country when the transaction occurred which made it easy to prove that he did not give the mortgage.

Henry Rines will undoubtedly be opposed by J. A. O. Preuss, insurance commissioner, and a most efficient officer. Just what effect this will have on the campaign now beginning to take shape is problematical. Mr. Preuss is one, if not the chief, advisor of Governor Eberhart, and the politicians are inclined to think if he comes out as a candidate that it will be against the interests of the governor in his campaign for reelection. However this may be the papers in various sections of the state, and especially those opposed to the Rines candidacy and the manner in which things were handled at the last session of the legislature in the house are singing Preuss' praises. It really begins to look as though there would be some excitement in the campaign, once it gets started.

IN THE ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Chairmanship of Committees are Announced, Entire Committees
to be Appointed Later

The regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Commercial club was held on Wednesday evening at the rooms in the Iron Exchange building. The matter of employing a secretary who could give his entire time to club matters has been before the board for some time. F. G. Hall, the acting secretary, who has been attending to the work since the resignation of Ezra Smith some months ago, was unable to devote the time needed in order to keep the work up and was desired to be relieved, and at the meeting last evening Mr. Nobe Connelly, of Nashville, Tenn., was engaged temporarily to take up the work. The gentleman has been in Brainerd for some time, and as he has had some experience in matters of this kind the directors decided to give him a try out after considering his application.

P. W. Donovan, who was elected treasurer at the annual meeting stated to the club that it would be much more handy for all concerned if the office was held as last year by Mr. Farrar, and after a conference the two gentlemen resigned their positions and F. A. Farrar was elected treasurer, and D. C. Peacock was elected vice president.

President Zapffe, who was detained at his home on account of illness in his family, announced the following chairmen of committees in a communication to the board, stating that the remaining members of the committees would be given out at the next meeting:

House and Entertainment—D. C. Peacock.

Finance—H. I. Cohen.

Membership—D. A. Haggard.

Public Affairs—W. H. Gemmell.

Publicity—D. A. Haggard.

Railway—Dr. J. L. Camp.

Fire Protection—O. A. Peterson.

Educational—P. W. Donovan.

Taxes and Assessments—Con O'Brien.

Mining—W. A. Barrows.

The election of a director to succeed F. E. Ebner, resigned, resulted in the selection of O. A. Peterson.

The matter of affiliating with the movement for the establishment of a board of associated charities in the city was taken up, and Henry I. Cohen was elected to represent the organization at their meetings.

SUPREME COURT ORDERS NEW TRIAL

New Trial Granted in the Case of Itasca Cedar & Tie Co. vs
George A. McKinley et al

LOWER COURT IS REVERSED

Two Former Trials in District Court
Now to be Followed by a Third Trial

Another chapter has been written in the case of the Itasca Cedar & Tie Co. vs George A. McKinley and William G. Hoerr, when the state supreme court reversed the order of the district court and granted a new trial.

A short history of this case and the various trials is of interest.

On January 15 1910, the jury rendered a verdict in a trial in the district court at Brainerd, finding the defendant George A. McKinley entitled to the possession of the property involved and assessed the value of his special interest therein at $23024.97 with interest at 6 per cent from September 25, 1908 to the date mentioned.

On November 17, 1910, Judge W. S. McClenahan granted a motion for a new trial, denying the motion for a judgment notwithstanding the verdict. In his memorandum Judge McClenahan said: "I think it was error to receive in evidence the books offered by the defendant. McKinley to show the result of the estimate made of the material in the yard at the time this action was commenced. But were this otherwise—if the books were properly received in evidence—the methods adopted in making the inspection and estimate in question were not such as to justify the full measure of credit which must have been extended to them by the jury. I feel that substantial justice has not been done by this verdict."

On December 23, 1911, on a second trial, the jury found that the plaintiff, the Itasca Cedar & Tie Co. was entitled to possession of the property involved herein.

George A. McKinley and William G. Hoerr appealed to the supreme court of the state from the order of the district court entered on February 4, 1913, by which order the district court denied the defendants motion for a new trial.

The matter was carried to the state supreme court and this decision was rendered:

Itasca Cedar & Tie company, respondents, vs George A. McKinley and William G. Hoerr, appellants—

1. Plaintiff in replevin claimed title under certain contracts of sale. Under the first contract one of the defendants agree to manufacture and deliver to plaintiff certain timber products. It is conceded that no title passed under this contract. Defendant proceeded to fulfill the contract, manufacturing part of the material himself and procuring part to be manufactured by others. Later a second contract was made, by the terms of which defendant assigned to plaintiff "all interest in all contracts he has of every nature for the manufacture and sale of material of the kinds mentioned in said (first) contract." Held, that this did not operate to assign to plaintiff and defendant, and did not pass title to material in process of manufacture by defendant himself.

2. Defendant McKinley was the owner of cedar telegraph poles taken in replevin. Some he had purchased and some he had manufactured himself, participating in the work of getting the material out of the woods, taking it from the river and sorting and manufacturing it in the yard. With plaintiff's president he spent three weeks making an estimate of the material in piles. Still later, as the material was loaded out of the yard, he was on the ground nearly all the time. He was an experienced timber man and familiar with values. McKinley's evidence was competent.

3. Plaintiff's president testified that the estimate made by himself and McKinley amounted to $35,000 or $40,000, and that it covered all but about 6,000 pieces. Defendants offered to prove that it covered more than half of the yard. The evidence was proper and should have been received.

4. Plaintiff offered proof that the actual cost of completing the manufacture and delivery of the material taken in replevin was $12,000, and that this was the reasonable value thereof. Defendants offered to prove by defendant McKinley that the reasonable cost of such manufacture and delivery did not exceed $5,000. McKinley was familiar with the cost of manufacture. The evidence should have been received.

5. Defendants offered proof that plaintiff's president stated, in the course of negotiations on this subject, that it would cost from $4,000 to $5,000 to complete the manufacture and delivery of this material. The evidence was proper as proof of an admission, and should have been received.

6. Plaintiff's books of account, showing the amount and character of material sold and the cash transactions incident thereto, made in the usual course of business, and properly verified, were admissible in evidence, although part of the entries were made from reports of persons not employed by plaintiff, since these reports were produced making them. The fact that some of the entries were made after suit was brought did not render them inadmissible.

7. A memorandum of an inventory taken by two persons was made by one, on information called off to him by the other. The person making the memorandum was not produced as a witness, the other made no attempt to verify the memorandum. It was properly rejected.

8. Memoranda made by two other persons of an inventory made in similar manner, but checked back and verified in a measure by both, held admissible under facts stated in the opinion, though only one of the persons participating in the inventory was produced as a witness.

Order reversed and new trial granted.

HALLAM, J.

A very pretty wedding took place at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the parsonage of St. Francis Catholic church when Miss Catherine Dowling and Ernest Dunham were united in holy matrimony.

They were attended by Miss Mary Taylor and Mr. William Dowling, a brother of the bride.

The bride was attired in a gown of gray French crepe trimmed in shadow lace and coral and pearl bading, while the bridesmaid wore a gown of tan silk with shadow lace trimming. The groom and groomsmen wore conventional black.

They left on the afternoon train for the north where a reception will be tendered them by the groom's parents.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and luxuriant at once—No more falling hair

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must see Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25 cent bottle will truly amaze you.

ORDINANCE NO. 256.

An Ordinance Regulating the Planning and Maintenance of Electric Wiring and Appliances in the city of Brainerd.

The Council of the City of Brainerd do ordain:

Section 1. The Building Inspector of the city of Brainerd is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to regulate and determine the placing of electric light, power, telephone, telegraph, district messenger, clock, watch service, and all similar wires in said city, so as to prevent fires, accident or injury to persons or property and to cause all electrical appliances to be so placed, constructed and guarded as not to cause fire or accident or endanger life or property; and whenever in the judgment of the said Building Inspector any electric wire or appliance shall be deemed defective by reason of improper or inefficient insulation or any other cause whatever, the city Building Inspector shall at once cause such defect to be immediately repaired or removed.

Section 2. Said Building Inspector shall have the right at any time to examine any outside or aerial construction or to enter any building, manhole or subway in the discharge of his official duties, or for the purpose of making any examination or test of said electrical apparatus or appliances, and for that purpose he shall be given prompt access to all electrical constructions and to all buildings, public or private, and to all manholes and subways, on application to the corporation, firm or individual owning or in charge or control of the same.

Section 3. Said Building Inspector shall have power to cause the removal of all wires or the turning off of all current where the circuits interfere with the work of the Fire Department, or threaten injury to life or property.

Section 4. No alterations or changes shall be made in the wiring of any building, nor shall any building be wired for the placing of electric lights, motors or electric heating devices, without first securing from the said Building Inspector a permit therefor, nor shall any change be made in any electric wiring, appliances or apparatus, after inspection thereof, without notifying the said Building Inspector and securing a written permit therefor.

Section 5. Upon the completion of the wiring of any building and before the same is concealed it shall be the duty of the corporation, firm or individual doing the same to notify the Building Inspector, who shall at once inspect the same, and if approved by him he shall issue a certificate of satisfactory inspection, which shall contain the date of such inspection and an outline of such examination; but no such certificate shall be issued unless the electric light, power or heating installation and all wires, apparatus and appliances connected with it shall be in strict conformity with the rules and regulations hereinafter referred to; nor shall current be turned on such installation until said certificate is issued; provided, however, that no permits or applications for the same will be required for the installation of wires to operate electric bells, gas lighting apparatus, house annunciators, burglar alarms, telephone or fire alarms, except that such permits shall be obtained when required by said Building Inspector; provided further, that when any new installation whatever of either inside or outside wiring is made, the corporation, firm or individual making such installation shall give the said Building Inspector written notice, which notice shall specify definitely where such installation was made, and such notice shall be given within twenty-four (24) hours after completion of such installation, and will be deemed sufficient if given by mail.

Section 6. All electrical constructions, all material and all appliances used in connection with electrical work, and the operation of all electrical apparatus in buildings in the city of Brainerd, shall be in conformity with the rules and regulations set forth in what is known as the National Electric Code, as it now exists or as it may hereafter be amended, and such National Electric Code, and amendments thereof, are hereby adopted as a part of this ordinance, in all respects the same as if they had been embodied at length herein.

Section 7. Any corporation, firm or individual who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance, or shall fail, neglect or refuse to comply with the rules and provisions of this ordinance, or who shall fail, neglect or refuse to comply with any order of the Building Inspector, made in pursuance of and by the authority of any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or to imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed ninety days, for each offense; provided, that the continued violation of the provisions of this ordinance, after notice thereof has been given by the Building Inspector to such corporation, firm or individual so violating the same, shall constitute a separate offense for each day such violation shall thereafter continue.

TELLS HOW MUCH TO FEED BABY

Machine Solves a Problem of Mothers the World Over.

REDUCED TO EXACT SCIENCE

Cornell Professor Before Physicians' Convention Demonstrates Wonderful Device—Physiologists Are Impressed by Report on Brain Discovery Made by Dr. John W. Crile of Cleveland.

Science, that indomitable force against which barriers heretofore impregnable are crumbling steadily and laying bare stores of vital knowledge, has at last mastered the problem of every mother—namely, the proper feeding of her baby. So it was announced by Dr. J. R. Murlin of Cornell university to the medical savants who attended the closing session of the three-day convention of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology at the University of Pennsylvania.

By a delicate system of chemical calculations, Dr. Murlin gave out, which he obtained after perfecting an incubator-like apparatus for the study of energy evolved by an infant's body, he has been able to determine scientifically the food requirements of the newly born infant, even of the premature baby.

To Study Baby's Needs.

The infant that is not responding to the customary diets can be put into the device, and an exact knowledge of just what nutritious substances he needs can be procured. Baby can play about in the boxlike machine just as the child takes him. He can roll about, kick, cry, laugh, go to sleep—anything that might be expected of him—but all the while that mystic process is going on.

Dr. Murlin explained that the constituents of the air inhaled and exhaled by the infant inside were measured chemically—how, only a man with the cipher of ten syllable words at his finger ends could understand. From those measurements it is a simple matter for the physician to prescribe for his little patient a diet that is bound to start him on his way to robustness.

Much the same kind of research work was reported by Dr. A. S. Loevenhart of the University of Wisconsin. He had a similar apparatus, respiration chamber, as it were, to work with as the one made by Dr. Murlin, though the former confined all his observations to small animals.

Dr. Crile's Brain Discovery.

The physiologists of the federation marveled at a discovery made by Dr. John W. Crile of Cleveland, who as one of the greatest surgeons in the country won international fame as the originator of local anesthesia. Dr. Crile announced that after examining more than 700 brains he had been able to group certain organisms that were interdependent, co-ordinated with one another.

He called this group the "kinetic system" and named the brain, adrenal, thyroid gland, liver and pancreas syndrome as the organisms which composed it. He found by his experiments that whatever hurt one of these affected the others. Some sort of sympathetic relationship, he said, existed between them.

BAR "GOD," SAYS DR. ELIOT.

Would Substitute "Our Father" in New Faith Based on Fact.

Nothing so radical from a high source has appeared in years as the supplementary article on "The Future of Religion" which Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, has prepared and which has been published by the American Unitarian association.

Dr. Eliot would take away the term "God" and use in its place "Our Father." His twentieth century Christianity does not believe in the garden of Eden. Dr. Eliot says God did not make man out of the dust of the ground, nor did he give into the hands of Moses the Ten Commandments; neither did the sun stand still for Joshua, nor did Jonah abide in the whale.

There will be no miracles in this twentieth century religion. "Men of science," says Dr. Eliot, "have no faith in magic or miracles."

The brotherhood of man will be the outcome of the new religion, declares the Harvard scholar.

ADVICE TO SUFFRAGETTES.

Mrs. Trout Seeks to Inspire the Women of Illinois With Maxims.

Designed to inspire and help Illinois suffragists in their work of the year, these maxims have been sent forth by Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association.

Let all women vote even if they vote wrong. Do not condemn even foolish activity. Anything is preferable to inane apathy. It is more cheerful to be a voter than a mere woman. Don't crumble over corrupt politics; just vote.

Equal suffrage will not shake the foundations of Illinois politics—not immediately. Women are near relatives of men.

Torreón

O Torreón, poor Torreón! Alas, likewise alack!

You are a town I would not own; I'd surely hand you back. Should anybody give you me to have with in my fold.

I am not brave enough, you see, a red hot brand to hold.

First Huerta captures Torreón. Then long comes old Carranza. A far the federal buzzard's down. The rebel horde then lands a Complete knockout to Torreón.

When weather's cold I am loath to linger where it's hot. But I'm averse to being both benighted and shot. I do not fancy—not at all—a climate where to dwell in winter, summer, spring and fall a man must be in Halifax.

Carranza captures Torreón. Then back comes buzzard Huerta To pick the murdered city's bone As long as he may dare to Remain in torrid Torreón.

O Torreón, poor Torreón, you have a hot old time! You are indeed a torrid zone, a caliente climate.

When Huerta doesn't shoot you out Carranza shoots you down. Between the two I pity you, O tormented town!

RISE OF $100,000,000 IN EXPORTS OF UNITED STATES.

Total For 1913 Is Estimated at $2,500,000,000—$740,000,000 Over Imports.

The steady growth of the country's export trade is shown by the department of commerce in estimating the figures for 1913 at $2,500,000,000 compared with $2,399,217,973 in 1912, or an increase of over $100,000,000. The imports are estimated at $1,756,000,000. The known figures of exports for 1913 are $2,251,000,000 for the eleven months ended November, and should the December output equal that of November the actual total for the year would be $2,407,000,000. In the case of imports they amounted to $1,600,000,000 for the eleven months ended November, 1913, and would total $1,756,000,000 for the year if the December figure equaled that for November. This result would make the excess of exports over imports approximately $740,000,000—a difference exceeding that of any other year.

In imports the total for 1913 will be less than 1912, but larger than in any previous year. Copper imports show an increase in quantity over the corresponding period of last year, both in ore and in the pigs, bars and ingots.

Coffee imports are much below those of 1912, the figures for the ten months ended October, 1913, being 635,000,000 pounds, valued at $80,000,000, against 752,000,000 pounds, valued at $104,000,000 in the same period of 1912. Tea shows a fall in imports of $1,500,000 in value.

Manufacturers' materials show, as a group, a decline of about 5 per cent compared with the corresponding period of 1912.

On the export side, crude foodstuffs for the ten months ended October, 1913, show a value of $150,500,000, against $98,500,000 in the same months of the preceding year, and foodstuffs partly or wholly manufactured, $206,500,000, against $204,750,000 in 1912. Manufacturers exported for further use in manufacturing amounted to $339,000,000 in the ten months ended October last, against $320,750,000 in the same period of 1912, and manufacturers ready for consumption, $659,000,000, against $607,000,000.

The increase in foodstuffs exported occurs chiefly in wheat, corn, barley, oats, flour, bacon and lard.

SHE ENJOYED AERO LOOP.

"A Grand, Whirling Delight," Says Miss Davies, English Aviator.

Miss Trehaque Davies, the first woman to loop the loop in an aeroplane, describes her experience as "a grand, whirling delight." Miss Davies went up at Hendon, England, with Gustav Hamel in an eighty-horsepower Morane monoplane.

After flying at an altitude of 10,000 feet they executed a perfect loop, came down 300 feet and rose to a height of 1,000 feet and looped the loop a second time. Then, to the amazement of the onlookers, the upside down machine appeared to stop dead for one thrilling moment. It hovered uncertainly in the air and then began to plane down on its back. The pilot, however, had his machine well in hand and righted it on the downward journey.

Miss Davies is one of the women pioneers of aviation in England and, although she does not steer an aeroplane herself, has crossed the channel several times and down more than 12,000 feet above the land.

LARGER THAN LICK TELESCOPE

Ottawa Observatory Instrument Will Set World Record.

EIGHTEEN MONTHS TO BUILD

Fifty Ton Engine of Science Is to Have a Disk Seventy-three Inches in Diameter—Tube So Big That an Automobile Could Be Driven Through It. A Marvel of Scientific Accuracy.

The Canadian government has awarded a contract to a Cleveland, O., company for the construction of what will be the largest telescope in the world. The new telescope will probably be set up in Ottawa and about eighteen months will be required to manufacture it and place it in position.

A rough idea of its size may be gained from noting that a full sized automobile could be readily driven through the tube. The company that will construct the telescope built the Lick telescope, finished in 1887, the object glass of which is thirty-six inches in diameter, and the Yerkes telescope, finished in 1893, which has a forty inch glass. These were the largest in the world.

"The great reflecting telescopes made by the English and by the French years ago," says Ambrose Swasey, a distinguished scientist, "served their purpose in the science of astronomy, but the development of astronomical photography introduced a new era."

"Progress, particularly in astrophysical and photographic lines, has been greatly advanced by the use of reflecting telescopes and especially by the work done with the sixty inch reflector at the Mount Wilson solar observatory, near Pasadena, Cal."

"Notable results have been obtained by the use of reflecting telescopes in later years, and this has stimulated a great interest in this type of instrument, such as is evidenced by the present contract."

"Even greater impetus will now be given by the action of the Canadian government in acquiring this splendid seventy-two inch instrument, which when finished will be the largest telescope yet constructed."

"This great engine of science, weighing fully fifty tons, resting upon massive piers of concrete, will have a tube thirty feet long and seven feet in diameter, which will weigh ten tons."

Seventy-three Inch Disk. "At the lower end of the tube will be located the principal speculum, composed of a disk of glass seventy-three inches in diameter, ten inches in thickness and weighing approximately two tons."

"When used as a Cassegrainian instrument a secondary convex reflector nineteen inches in diameter will be placed near the upper end of the tube for reflecting the rays back through a hole in the speculum to the great spectroscopic attached to the lower end of the tube."

"As a Newtonian instrument a flat mirror will be provided for reflecting the cone of rays at right angles into the photographic apparatus at the upper edge of the tube."

"As a direct vision instrument both secondary mirrors will be removed, and appliances for visual, photographic and spectroscopic work will be attached at the prime focus."

"The tube and the declination and polar axes, with their attachments, weigh thirty-five tons, and so nicely is each part balanced and adjusted that the powerful driving clock revolves this immense weight with such accuracy and uniformity that the spider line in the eyepiece of the pointing telescope attached to the great tube can be kept exactly on the center of the star under observation."

All In Harmony.

"Have you been in Mrs. Gilder's new home?"

"No."

"It's furnished perfectly exquisite. You ought to see the antiques! Everything is just as old as it can be. Why, she hasn't neglected a single period."

"Indeed?"

"Yes. What do you think? She's even got a Queen Anne vacuum cleaner!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

An Oath of Silence.

In certain districts of Western Australia there are women who take an oath to remain silent after the death of their husbands. In some cases they will remain mute for two years after the funeral, and very often the oath is kept also by the mother and mother-in-law of the deceased.—Paris Revue Medicale.

Honduras' Silver Coins.

In the republic of Honduras the silver currency was for years minted from Socorro bullion. This nearly always contains a certain proportion of gold, which used not to be separated before it went to the mint, so that Honduras silver coins prior to 1911 generally contain a certain proportion of gold.

A DOCTOR'S STORY

The Problem That Grew Out of a Queer Night Call.

A STUDY IN MEDICAL ETHICS.

It Was a Case in Which Mystery and Suspicion Were Mixed, and It Awoke the Question of a Physician's Right to Violate a Pledge of Secrecy.

This is a story, told by a well known physician, of a problem that suddenly confronted him and how he interpreted the ethics of his profession and acted on it.

"I was roused one night," he said, "by a telephone call. An unfamiliar voice asked me if I could attend a man who had been injured. I answered that I could if the case was urgent, but before I could ask who was calling the speaker answered:

"All right, doctor; I'll call at your house in ten minutes with a carriage." "Almost before I had time to dress the doorbell rang. I unlocked the door, and a man wearing a long ulster, a dark hat and a pair of colored glasses entered.

"Doctor," he said, "before we start I want to make a request. This case, as I told you, is urgent. But before we start I must have your assurance that you will treat this visit as a confidential mission. I can't say any more, except to add that you're running no risk of any kind in helping me."

"There was nothing about the man's appearance that seemed suspicious. He was quiet and self possessed. There wasn't a trace of nervousness about him, and he was well dressed. I thought there was no reason for refusing to make the agreement."

"I took my hat, and we started. The carriage was a closed one. We got in; the man turned on a small electric light and then drew the blinds over the windows."

"Doctor," he said, "I'm going to ask you to take this trip without knowing where you're going. I'll assure you it's all right. I want you to blindfold yourself before we leave the carriage until we get inside the house."

"Well, I didn't like the look of this, but I was in and didn't like to back out. By the time the carriage stopped I didn't have the least idea what part of the town we were in, he had made so many turns. I put on the blindfold, as my visitor requested, and we went into a house."

"Upstairs I found my patient. He had been shot twice. Revolver bullets they were. The wounds weren't dangerous, but they were painful because they had not been treated earlier."

"I dressed them, told the woman who was there what sort of care the patient ought to have and then told them that I'd have to see the man at least two or three times more before I could answer for his safe recovery."

"The man with the dark glasses quietly assented to this, but insisted that he should bring me at night, as he had that time. I agreed."

"The next morning the papers told of a robbery in which a householder had been wounded after shooting one of the burglars, who succeeded in escaping. All the facts of the case indicated that my patient of the night before was the burglar who had been shot. The householder recovered quickly."

"The question started at me: Did the ethics of the medical profession allow me to go to the police and tell them what I knew, or did my promise bind me to secrecy? I thought it over all day and finally decided that I had no right to say anything about the matter. I made three more trips in the same manner. All this time I watched the papers, but no trace was found of the burglars. When I made my last visit I told the man who had first called me that my fee would be $50. He took from a large roll some bills and handed them to me without a word. He drove me home, and that was the last I ever saw of either of them."

"That was a good many years ago, but I've often wondered whether I did right in not violating that man's confidence."

"I don't think you did," said a member of the group. "The medical profession has no right to shield a criminal. Women and children should be given the greatest protection we can give them, but no word given a criminal is binding."

"But suppose it had turned out that the man was not the burglar in question? I believe he was, but it might have been otherwise."

"That's true," said a third. "It was all right to keep your promise so long as you had no actual knowledge that the man was a criminal. Where you made your mistake was in making such a ridiculous agreement in the first place."

"And let a man, dangerously injured, suffer?" asked the first speaker. "Remember, when I first agreed to secrecy the case had no particularly suspicious appearance. I could cite a dozen different circumstances in which a serious accident might happen and which the persons connected with would, with a perfect right, go to great lengths to keep secret. So could either of you."

Which of the three was right?—New York Telegraph.

COURTESIES OF WAR.

Christmas Boxes the Boers Dropped Among the English.

When the Boers advanced on Ladysmith in the Transvaal war the late Melton Prior was one of the twenty newspaper correspondents who threw in their lot with the English army instead of making the hurried retreat that was still possible. In his book, "Campaigns of a War Correspondent," he tells many interesting incidents of the siege.

The enemy succeeded in placing thirty-two guns on the heights above the town and kept up such an incessant fire that the troops and civilians were soon engaged in digging bomb proof shelters. In a short time they learned to distinguish the different Boer guns by their sound and gave them amusing names. Three of the large ones they called "Long Tom," "Puffing Billy" and "Wearry Willie." Then there was "Bloody Mary," so named because the bursting of a shell was the first warning we got that it had been fired.

In spite of the havoc that the cannon worked, the soldiers soon grew accustomed to the shelling. One day the Second Gordon highlanders were playing football, when a shell plumped in among them. Fortunately, no one was hit, and they went on playing. The Boers were so interested, apparently, that they gave up firing and actually sat on the edge of the hills, watching the game. Then, when it was all over, the firing started afresh.

But this was not the only courtesy the enemy showed. On Christmas day they saluted the happy morn by salvoes of shells. The first two that fell into the camps of the carabineers and the Imperial Light horse did not burst. When the shells were picked up it was found that wooden plugs had been inserted in place of the fuses, and inside the shells were plum puddings. On the outside were the words, "With the compliments of the season."

THE CRUSH OF WORLDS.

It Will Come When the Solar System Falls Into the Sun.

The whole of the present solar system is ultimately to fall into the sun, causing an explosion that may result in a new solar system. Such is the theory put forward in the Journal of Natural Science by Professor Philip Fauth, a well known astronomer, whose reputation has rested principally upon his researches into conditions on the moon.

The novel feature of Dr. Fauth's theory is that it is based upon the supposition that a great part of the known solar system, including especially the planets Jupiter, Uranus and Saturn, are not composed of mineral matter at all, but are tremendous masses of ice, or balls of ice surrounding a mineral kernel. Furthermore, he declares, a part of what is now known as the Milky way is not mineral or gaseous, but "a ring of ice dust," masses of particles of ice suspended in space, the outer planets receiving a constant addition to their ice mass from this source.

Professor Fauth declares that the world already at some remote period has had a similar experience, resulting in the death of nearly all animate nature, and that all species of life as we know it have arisen since then. Eventually the planets swinging through their narrowing orbits will fall into the sun, causing a new explosion and perhaps the birth of a new solar system, but for thousands of years before that time all life, either on earth or elsewhere, will have disappeared.—New York Sun.

The Walking Stick.

One does not look to one's walking stick to tell the date, but earlier sticks often combined the functions of almanacs and staffs, for our first almanacs were simply "the courses of the moons of the whole year engraved upon sticks," and those who went on distant pilgrimages soon saw the advantage of turning the heads of their staffs into almanacs. Their sticks were at once props and guides to assist them in arriving at the recognized assembling places of pilgrims at the correct time.—London Globe.

Sterne's Destitution.

Laurence Sterne, the writer, was the victim of the intensest poverty. A little time before his death, being in a state of destitution, he went one evening to borrow £5 from his friend Garrick. Upon arriving he heard music and knew that a party was going on. He heard the merry laughter and, gently replacing the uplifted knocker, retraced his steps.

WORLD'S GOLD AND SILVER.

Notable Decrease in Product of This Country, the Transvaal and Mexico.

George E. Roberts, director of the mint, estimates the world's production of gold last year at $455,000,000, approximately $11,000,000 less than in 1912. He places the silver production at 212,000,000 fine ounces, about 12,000,000 less than in 1912.

In the United States the production of gold fell off $5,000,000, chiefly in Alaska and Nevada. The Transvaal fell $5,000,000 behind its record of 1912. But for the miners' strike in June the Transvaal would have shown a moderate increase. Australasia lost $1,000,000, which is a continuation of a decline that has been going on for several years. Mexico's production fell off about $5,000,000, due to the war. Canada gained $2,700,000 in the production of gold and British India $1,000,000.

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS

BACKACHE AND RHEUMATISM VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Quick Relief

A few doses of Hindipio never fail to relieve such troubles, because it cleans out the clogged up, inactive organs, and makes them work properly. It soaks right into the kidneys, cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the tender membranes of the bladder; dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles, and scratch and irritate, and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the lifeless kidneys so they can filter and sift the poison from the blood, and drive it out of the system.
